Coogie Scooties

Whereas, The University of Houston is a large walking campus and there is no personal transportation methods besides cars, which are located in far parking lots.

Whereas, At universities that are located in big cities, they use Bird or Lime Scooters to get around campus and other parts of the city.

Whereas, Besides the Cougar Shuttle, there are limited ways to get around campus, or to and from campus.

Therefore, be it enacted by the Senate of the Student Government Association of the University of Houston:

“Coogie Scooties” (similar to Bird Scooters/Lime Scooters) be made and bought by the University to increase transportation methods. Unlike using a credit card for a Bird Scooter/Lime Scooter, we can use our cougar cards to active the ‘Coogie’, so only University of Houston students can use the scooters and will be charged at the end of the semester. Preferable cheap, affordable prices to ride the ‘Coogie Scooties’.

Be it further enacted, Students can ride a ‘Coogie Scootie’ from the parking lot by the TDECU stadium and go to their class at the Quintero Theatre. Also, Houston has unpredictable weather and makes it difficult to drive or even walk to class. Using this scooter, it would make the trip to class easier.

Be it further enacted, Students living at near-by off-campus apartment buildings can use the ‘Coogie Scooties’ to get to campus quicker than using the 30 minute bus.

Be it further enacted, The ‘Coogie Scooties’ could increase students’ attendance and participation around campus. This would also bring the university a big profit with the fun, easy, affordable, convinant, and fast method of student transportation.
